THIS IS LONDON OPPORTUNITY IS EVERYWHERE

London is a city that needs little introduction. Whether you've lived here all your life, or are visiting for the very first time, this is a place where opportunities lie. From its unrivalled history, to the huge number of cultural attractions at your doorstep, it's easy to see why people choose to study in England's capital. With London as your base, this is your chance to not only get a top quality UK education, but also to build up the business and personal links that you'll carry with you for the rest of your life.

Something for everyone

From history, to culture, to food and entertainment, there is always something new to discover.

CONNECT AND LEARN

London businesses can offer work experience, networking events and interview training. Every day is a chance to connect with new people from around the world.

GO FURTHER

London offers outstanding transport links. Why not explore the rest of the UK and Europe whilst you're here?

STUDYING IN LONDON

ENTERTAINMENT AWAITS

To put it simply, there is no better place to kick back than in London. This is a truly cosmopolitan metropolis. One with countless restaurants, cinemas, and music venues – all within walking distance of the nearest Underground stop.

Take your pick from the British Museum and Tate Modern art gallery, or the National Portrait Gallery and Victoria & Albert Museum. All world-renowned, all completely free.

BEST FOR STUDENTS

London has been voted the best student city in the world (QS Best Student Cities 2019).

FIND PART-TIME WORKING

Finding flexible part-time work is a must for many students studying in London. London's huge retail and leisure sectors present perfect opportunities for university students. Stop by our Careers and Employability Office to have a chat and find out what opportunities are available.

Inspirational location

Overlooking Canary Wharf, London's iconic business district.

World-class culture

London offers an incredible selection of galleries – featuring classic to modern art.

Park life

Enjoy the capital's glorious green spaces.

SPACE TO THINK

You might not think that such a busy, vibrant place has many green, open spaces. But you'd be wrong... London's parks are the perfect place to relax. Try the spectacular Hyde Park, Regent's Park and St James' Park – all in the centre of London. Or Royal Richmond Park, Bushy Park and Hampstead Heath, all just a short travelling distance away. These are the city's green spaces where you can often find open-air theatre, concerts and sporting events – many of which are also free.

Hyde Park

It wouldn't be London without mentioning the famous West End – home to England's theatre scene and your chance to see some of the best actors to ever tread the boards. From long-running musicals to exciting new plays, this is where you can get your fix of live performance at its best.

Play hard

London's West End is famous as the city's entertainment district.

There's plenty to do in the iconic home of the 2012 Olympic Games.

Get energised

With fun sports and activities.

FLEX YOUR BODY FEED YOUR MIND

London Sport aims to make London the most physically active city in the world, as part of the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic games.

As part of the initiative, the not-for-profit organisation is investing millions into supporting physical and mental health activities, individual development, and social and community development.

For every £1.00 invested in sport and physical activity in London, £1.48 of social value is generated for individuals and society.

Don't be a spectator

If you are interested in starting a sporting society on campus, stop by the Gateway and complete a Student Society Application. A member of the Gateway team will be more than happy to assist.

LONDON CAN COMPETE WITH ANYWHERE

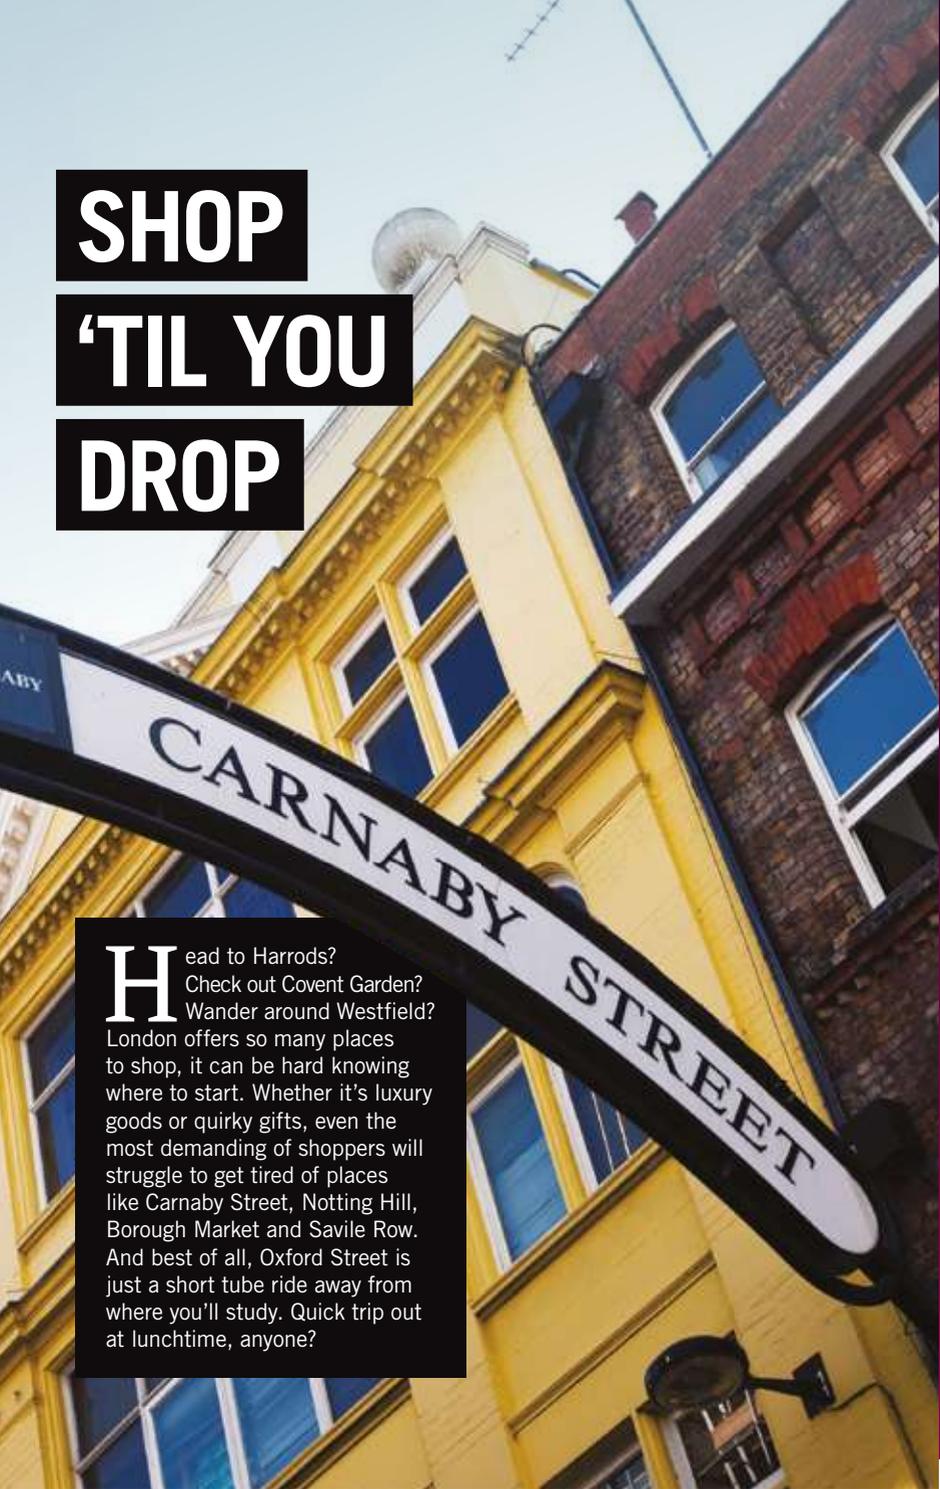

Think London, think sport. The hugely successful 2012 Olympics might've showcased the best of what our capital city can offer, but in truth, it already had claim to many premier events. From football at Wembley Stadium, Arsenal, Chelsea, Spurs and West Ham, to tennis at Wimbledon, rugby at Twickenham and cricket at Lord's.

First-class events

At the national stadium, Wembley.

SHOP 'TIL YOU DROP

Head to Harrods? Check out Covent Garden? Wander around Westfield? London offers so many places to shop, it can be hard knowing where to start. Whether it's luxury goods or quirky gifts, even the most demanding of shoppers will struggle to get tired of places like Carnaby Street, Notting Hill, Borough Market and Savile Row. And best of all, Oxford Street is just a short tube ride away from where you'll study. Quick trip out at lunchtime, anyone?

London Eye

DON'T JUST SEE, EXPERIENCE

Sightseeing is a must if you're new to the city. But it's also something to experience again and again. Go high on the London Eye, travel down history's glorious (and goriest) past at the Tower of London, strike a chord at Big Ben. From Kew Gardens and Buckingham Palace to Madame Tussauds and the Royal Albert Hall, this is where London really comes alive.

Trafalgar Square

Surrounded by museums, galleries, cultural spaces and historic buildings.

GETTING HERE

Getting to London is no trouble thanks to the first class transport links. For many students, they feel at home right away – so once you get here you may never feel like leaving. Plus, once you arrive, getting around is easy. There's the famous London Underground (Tube) and Overground services including the DLR, plus many bus routes, cycle routes and public footpaths.

South Quay DLR station is just 2 minutes walk from the University.

AIR

London is accessible by several airports. Heathrow is one of the world's busiest. With four passenger terminals, it's Britain's main airport for international flights. Gatwick is widely regarded as London's second airport for international flights, whereas Stansted mainly serves European destinations.
