Course content

Future Leaders Young MBA is a taster of an MBA programme at a prestigious business school.

Students will be split into project management groups of up to five and will work together through seminars and business challenges aimed at simulating an MBA course.

Example topics include: marketing, strategic thinking, qualities of an entrepreneur, public speaking, digital strategy, and business coaching.

Just like a real MBA the course is designed to introduce topics such as strategic thinking and decision making, as well as introducing them to basic skills in business.

The course ends with presentations of the projects and an awards ceremony.

There are two full-day trips and one half-day trip as part of the course, including a walking tour of Oxford, London with a walking tour and company visit, and Cambridge with entry to King's College, a walking tour and punting on the River Cam.

Previous Future Leaders guest speakers

JACKIE KASSTEEN

Jacqueline Kassteen is the Founder and Managing Director of Jackfruit Marketing and Jackfruit Fame. Jacqueline has 20 years' experience in marketing, has started two companies and is recognised as a top industry analyst. She has extensive experience of developing marketing strategy and delivering successful marketing campaigns. Jackie will be speaking on a number of our future leader courses focusing on students' personal brand as well as developing business marketing strategy.

Company visit

The Young MBA programme includes a visit to a London based company during the full day excursion. The visit will include a guided tour of their offices and a talk outlining their operations and strategies, as well as core business functions and marketing campaigns. Students will get a behind-the-scenes look at a leading company.
